Thank you for the update Kimi.

With your acceptance of this afternoon's meeting, let's plan to discuss the BA further, including any reformatting to help make our findings and conclusions more concise and coherent. We very much appreciate the time you have invested in working with Omar and I on this document, knowing that you have a lot going on in/outside of work.

Hi Douglas,
Thanks for the check in.

I think you have a good sense of where we are on ESA – thanks for working with Omar so closely on that. Our revisions to the BA are more significant than we had thought, but I think we can get a close-to-final revision in place for our call with FWS next Thursday. Then we can make final changes and hopefully send it out for FWS concurrence. That piece is out of our hands as far as timing goes. I think the FWS has 60 days under the new regs. From our discussion to date, I think/hope we should be able to get their concurrence pretty quickly, but I don't know their internal process on that.

Thanks, Kimi

Hi Kimi: we were sorry to miss you on today's call during which the ORC attorneys were able to report on their work on Dewey Burdock by responding to the four questions below.

As you have time, Sarah and I would appreciate hearing your brief responses in part to ensure the UIC program continues to provide support where it is most needed. I think the two major areas of your work that come to mind are EJ and ESA.

Thanks!

Douglas

Hi Sarah: I am happy to lead our conversation with our attorneys. I was thinking of asking each of them one or more of these questions:

- 1) Where are you on drafting responses to comments (and changes to any associated documents)?;
- 2) Do you have a clear path forward for finishing this work given Greg's decisions last week?;
- 3) Where do you still need UIC program support and/or decisions?; and
- 4) When do you expect to complete your work?

Anything else we want to consider in terms of prompts/questions?

I believe Kimi is not available today but it looks like most everyone else accepted,
